LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Engine 580 has been sent to this Division to pull trains 77 and 78, the 512 being desired for other purposes.

Dan Coyn, who is one of the inspectors at Howell, went to Terre Haute, Ind., Sunday.

Painter Lester Ransley is enjoying a vacation in St. Louis for a few days, being accompanied by his wife.

Passenger Engineer Henry Martz is taking a rest this week on his stock farm near Mt. Vernon, Ills.

Geo. W. Meyers, fireman on the St. Louis Division, after being operated on for appendicitis, is able to be around.

Thomas Haley, formerly engineer on the Henderson Division is now connected with the round house at Russellville, Ky., under the jurisdiction of Pat Ryan.

There are sixty engineers on the Henderson Division.

William Murray, of the New York Lubricating Oil Co., spent the day at Howell shops last Saturday.

Mr. Walsh is putting on another class of firemen.

It has been necessary to put a water train on the St. Louis Division.

Mr. C. L. Whittenburg, car repairer, has returned from a trip to California, where he says work is not plentiful, owing to the fact that there are so many people flocking there to spend the winter, who are glad enough to get work of any kind to defray their expenses while there. He also spent some time at Salt Lake, Utah. He says he is glad to get back to Howell.

The work in Belleville, Illinois, yard was delayed somewhat last Thursday on account of engine 1190 bursting a flue, and having to be towed to E. St. Louis. Besides this the engine got off the track.

The new round house at Howell is being completed and will be in use by the middle of November or the first of December at the latest. It will be an up-to-date round-house in every particular, modern in construction. It is made of brick and has a gravel roof. It has seventeen compartments, or stalls, for locomotives, in one of which machinery will be placed. It will be better lighted and ventilated by having many more large windows than the old house, having also a skylight. Funnels from the roof will fit down over the stacks of the locomotives, preventing the smoke from escaping into the room. The pits for the locomotives to stand over and be worked on, called drop-pits, are made of stone, having good drainage, so that when the engine boilers are being washed out the water will run off and not stand on the floor, which is made of one and one-half inch pine lumber. A new turn-table, larger than the old one, as well as a depressed cinder track, is under construction. The tracks are being changed to their new places to correspond with the new turn-table. W. D. Price and J. B. Huff, day and night foremen, of the round house, will be especially glad when it is put into use, as the work on the locomotives can be done in the round house, whereas now it is done out in the weather.

SHYLOCK

Shylock was the man who wanted a pound of human flesh. There are many Shylocks now, the convalescent, the consumptive, the sickly child, the pale young woman, all want human flesh and they can get it—take Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion is flesh and blood, bone and muscle. It feeds the nerves, strengthens the digestive organs and they feed the whole body.

For nearly thirty years Scott's Emulsion has been the great giver of human flesh.

NOT IN THE LIST.

Isn't Our County to be Represent in the Photographic Display at the World's Fair.

The Kentucky Exhibit Association has appointed Official World's Fair Photographers in twenty-nine counties in Kentucky and these men are now actively engaged in taking views for the display to be made at the Exposition next year. Our county has been asked to add its name to the list, but, up to this time, no photographer has applied for the position from this county. The Exhibit Association asks us to announce that it is very anxious to have an Official Photographer in every county in the State. The place is open to either amateurs or professionals, the only requirement being that the pictures sent in are first class and will do for exhibit purposes. There is nothing that will advertise our county more at the World's Fair than good photographs of our historical points and of our products, resources and industries. We should be able to not only send samples for the different displays but to furnish good photographs of the many interesting views in the towns and rural districts of our county. Correspondence on this subject is solicited by the Exhibit Association. Letters should be addressed to the secretary, R. E. Hughes, at headquarters in Louisville.

D. L. Zimmerman, former postmaster of Lynnville, Ind., is under arrest, charged with embezzling $800 belonging to the Government.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.

Mrs. Pilmer, of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children."

MINING NOTES.

A company of Newport, Ky., capitalists have purchased sixteen hundred acres of coal and timber lands on White Oak Creek Morgan county, for a large private price. They will at once begin the work of opening a narrow-gauge railroad from the new mines to Cannel City, on the O. & K. Railway, for the purpose of shipping their product to market. The new fields are near Cannel City coal fields.

Glendale Mining Co. has been incorporated, with capital of $12,000, for development of lead and zinc mines in Crittenden county. T. M. Dyer is president; G. L. Drury, secretary-treasurer, and Henry Walker, mining superintendent.

The Mountain Lead, Zinc & Fluorspar Co., of Paducah, has been incorporated, with capital of $150,000, by W. D. Greer, J. L. Friedman, James A. Rudy and others.

Statistics concerning casualties among the working people of Minnesota for one year, ending August 31 show 1,006 accidents. Eighty-one of which were fatal and 225 more or less serious.

Mr. Charles R. Mason, one of the best known young men of Paducah, Ky., has embarked in the coal business for himself. Mr. Mason has been connected with the St. Bernard Mining Co., as sales agent at that point for thirteen years and knows the business in every detail.

CHEAP LANDS

For Homeseekers and Colonies.

The country along the Cotton Belt Route in Southwest Missouri, Arkansas, Northwest Louisiana and Texas offers the greatest opportunities for Homeseekers. Mild climate, good water, cheap building materials, abundance of fuel, and soil that will often in a single season yield enough to pay for the ground. Land can be bought as cheap as $2.50 an acre, prairie land at $4 and $5 per acre up, bottom land at $5 and $6 per acre up, improved or partly cleared land at $10 and $15 per acre up. Some fine propositions for colonies—tracts of 2,000 to 8,000 acres at $4 to $10 per acre—big money in this for a good organizer. Fruit and truck lands in the famous peach and tomato belt of East Texas at $10 to $20 per acre up. Write us for information about cheap rates, excursion dates, also literature descriptive of this great country and let us help you find a home that will cost you no more than the rent you pay every year.

WILL REMEDY EVILS.

Present Tax Law Is an Invitation to Duplicity.

P. N. CLARKE ON THE AMENDMENT

Simply Authorizes Legislature by General Laws to Permit All Cities and Towns to Raise Revenue for Local Purposes by Licenses, Franchises, etc., on Personal Property.

The advantages to be derived from the adoption of the constitutional amendment at the election to be held Nov. 2 were explained at a recent meeting of the Louisville Credit Men's Association by Mr. Peyton N. Clarke, the Secretary of the Amendment Committee. He said:

"For years, under our former constitution, all cities and town had the privilege of home rule and the right to tax themselves for municipal purposes without interference from anyone. It was argued by some, however, that this was a power no town or city should have, and the wise makers of our new constitution said that it would never do—that all property should be taxed alike. So the revenue law was changed.

"But the result has proved the fallacy of the idea, and the effect has been exactly contrary to the design.

"Under our present law the grossest inequalities in assessments prevail and there is not a single advantage to compensate for the innovation. When every person is his own assessor it is not strange that there should be great irregularities. The rich man easily escapes his fair share of taxation, as he covers up his stores of wealth, while the poor man with his all invested in a modest home has to pay more than his share, because all he has is in sight and cannot be hidden from the assessor.

"The proposed amendment will remedy all this to a great extent. It simply authorizes the legislature by general act to permit all cities and towns to raise revenue for local purposes by licenses, franchises, etc., on personal property, instead of the present ad valorem system.

"Its object is obvious. Under the new law our merchants, manufacturers and financial institutions will pay licenses and avoid the necessity of fictitious returns to the assessor. All personal property subject to taxation will pay its fair share of taxes, and by equalizing the burden it will sit lightly on all.

"Under the new law we can invite capital and industry with assurances of welcome, and our state will flourish as a green bay tree.

"The amendment is a step forward and will place us in the line of progressive states.

"We have had a dozen years of the ad valorem system of taxes, and they have been lean years to the industrial development of the state. Capital has shunned our shores. Our mineral and timber lands lie waste. Our interest rates are high and our people lack the spirit of enterprise.

"Let us have the amendment and we will find a different state of affairs, and Kentucky, with all her wealth of natural resources—her great rivers and network of railways—will blossom forth as the rose, and wealth will flow into our coffers, while health and happiness will be our inheritance."

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

(Editorial from Cincinnati Democrat, Oct. 3, 1903.)

"And the General Assembly, by general laws only, authorize cities or towns of any class to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, licenses, or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon; provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of an ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light, or electric power company."

There is the constitutional amendment upon which the voters are asked to pass judgment at the November election, and upon the adoption of which the welfare, the advancement and the continued prosperity of Kentucky are believed to depend.

The change is easily understood. Instead of raising revenue to pay the expenses of city and town government—the salaries of the mayor, police, firemen, the maintenance of the streets, public improvements, etc.—by assessing personal property as under the present laws, the legislature may authorize cities and towns to adopt a license system. All property, real and personal, in cities and towns will continue to pay state and county taxes as usual. No change whatever will be made in this respect, so that people who live in the country may vote for the amendment under the full assurance that it will in no way affect their taxes; except the more the cities and towns build up and prosper, the lower the taxes on the whole people will become.

It is certainly asking a small favor that voters cast their ballots for this amendment at the November election. There is little doubt of its passage, if the people do not forget or neglect to vote on the question. There is no politics in it.
